Manhattan Beach, CA 90266
(415) 346-7662
<http://www.3phases.com/>

Product Description: 3 Phases offers green certificates to residential customers supplied from new wind resources located in Oregon; this is to be the largest wind project in the country by the end of this year. Certificates can be purchased on a monthly or annual basis. 3 Phases will sell certificates representing non-wind projects in New England and other regions to large business and institutional customers. Such projects might include biomass and small hydro. They are willing to come up with flexible plans that meet regional/content requirements. 3 Phases is willing to aid in marketing for large customers, including the development of press releases. Further, if a large customer buys at least 8,000 MWh worth of certificates from wind, a turbine can be branded with the customer's name. The company's web site includes an "environmental footprint calculator" with which potential customers can calculate the number of certificates that would be required to offset the carbon emissions associated with an individual's annual household energy use and transportation requirements.

Price Premium: 2.5 ¢/kWh for residential customers; 1.25¢/kWh maximum for large customers purchasing wind certificates and less for biomass and small hydro.
